| Programme report           | The Department of Physics celebrated the Birth Anniversary of Sir C.V. Raman. On this occasion the Chairperson of the Program Principal Dr S.Shobha Rani gave a talk on contributions Sir C.V. Raman in Physics and Co ordinator of the program Smt. R. Manjula spoke about Raman effect. Students were motivated to take up research activities by following footsteps of Nobel prize winner Sir C.V Raman. Quiz Competitions were conducted for students on Recent Developments in Science. Participation certificates were given to all students. The winners of the quiz competition were T.Devi Maheshwari, S.Sivaparvathi, S.Chandini and S.Rupalath |
| Objective of the Activity  | To create awareness about Sir C.V. Raman, the first Asian to obtain noble prize in physics and his discoveries in science. The Objective of the activity is to motivate students to take up research in physics as their career options and to develop innovative experiments.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Outcome of the Activity    | Created awareness on Sir C.V Raman's ground breaking work in the field of light scattering subsequently known as Raman scattering                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
